Financial Aid for Eye Care

Many state and national resources regularly provide aid to people with vision problems. The National Eye Institute, which supports eye research, does not help individuals pay for eye care. However, if you are in need of financial aid to assess or treat an eye problem, you might contact one or more of the following programs.

You may also contact a social worker at a local hospital or other community agency. Social workers often are knowledgeable about community resources that can help people facing financial and medical problems.

Eye Exams and Surgery

- EyeCare America is a public service foundation of the American Academy of Ophthalmology (AAO). It provides comprehensive eye exams and care for up to 1 year, often at no out-of-pocket expense to eligible callers through its seniors and Diabetes EyeCare Programs.
