Having trouble seeing while you’re spring cleaning?

Are everyday tasks like cooking, cleaning, and watching TV difficult to do, even with glasses, contact lenses, or corrective surgery?

If so, you may have low vision.

Most people develop low vision due to eye diseases and health conditions like glaucoma and diabetes.

There is help and hope for people living with vision loss. Talk with your eye care professional.

Visit www.nei.nih.gov/lowvision